

Level 1, Lesson 5

Hi, Marco!

Hi, Ashley. How are you today?

I'm well, thanks be to God.

I'm well, too, thanks be to God.

Yes.

Months and Years

Well, we've got a good lesson today.

We do?

Yeah, we wanna work on the calendar.

Oh, the calendar.

You know, months, and . . .

OK.

years.

Yes.

Well, I don't know if the students know that.

Months and years. No.

Well, let's start with the days.

Ok, the days.

Ok, today is Wednesday.

Yes, today is Wednesday

So, yesterday was Tuesday.

Yesterday was Tuesday.

Good. OK, let's say the days of the week again

Ok, good

Ok, listen and repeat. Sunday

Sunday

Monday

Monday

Tuesday

Tuesday

Wednesday

Wednesday

Thursday

Thursday

Friday

Friday

Saturday

Saturday

OK

There are seven days in a week. One week, seven days.

Yes, there are seven days in a week, and there are fifty-two weeks in a year.

Yes, there are fifty-two weeks in a year, and there are twelve months in a year.

Yes, there are twelve months in a year. One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve. Twelve months in a year.

hummm. Seven days in a week, fifty-two weeks in a year, 12 months in a year.

Ok, Ashley, listen and repeat the months of the year.

OK, I'm ready.

January

Oh, yes.

January

February

February

March

March

April

April

May

May

June

June

July

July

August

August

September

September

October

October

November

November

December

December

That's the 12 months of the year.

Yes, every year has 12 months.

Ok, and there are 52 weeks in a year.

Past Tense of Be

Past tense "be" verb

Past tense "be" verb. So today is Wednesday

Yes

And yesterday was Tuesday.

Yes, today is Wednesday, yesterday was Tuesday.

Yes, and you are here today

Yes, today I am here.

Where were you, where were you yesterday?

Ah, yesterday Serena and I were in Milan.

oh, you and Serena were in Milan.

Yes, we were in Milan yesterday. We were in Milan yesterday. I was in Milan yesterday. Today we are here.

Today you are here and today is Wednesday.

Yes.

So, one, two, three days ago, three days ago was Sunday.

Yes, so today is Wednesday, so

Today is Wednesday

So one day ago was Tuesday

Tuesday

Two days ago was Monday,

Monday

Three days ago was Sunday. Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday.

That's right. Three days ago was Sunday. Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, and today is Wednesday. Where were you on Sunday?

On Sunday we were in church.

Ah, three days ago, you were in church.

Yes, we were in church on Sunday.

Yes, I was in church, too, on Sunday.

I saw you.

(chuckle), you saw me?

Yes, I saw you. Yes, we were there together, yes it was a good day.

Yes, it was a good day.

I love going to church.

Me, too.

I love to go to church.

The people are great.

And the time with God together is great.

Yes, the time with God together is important.

So today is Wednesday.

Today is Wednesday.

And one week ago was Wednesday.

Yes, one week ago was Wednesday.

Yes, 7 days ago was Wednesday.

7 days ago.

One week.

Yes, exactly.

Good. And so, today is Wednesday, two days ago was Monday.

Monday

Yes, OK, got it!

Yes, very good. So 2 days ago was Monday. Three days ago was Sunday.

Ashley, this is October.

Yes

Two months ago, what month was it?

OK, this is October, 2 months ago . . .

One month ago was Sep . . .

September

Two months ago was . . .

August

And three months ago

July

July

July

4 months ago was . . .

was June

and 5 months ago was . . .

5 months ago was May

Good, got it right! So let's take a break.

OK. Sounds good.

Questions: What, Where, Who

Questions: what? where? and who?

Questions: what? where? and who?
Marco, what is that?

That? This is a bowl.

O, that is a bowl.

This is a bowl.

and what is in the bowl?

This is a napkin.

O, that is a napkin.

The napkin is in the bowl.

OK, the napkin is in the bowl.

I put the bowl on the table.

You put the bowl on the table. What are those?

These are my shoes.

O, those are your shoes!

These are my shoes.

Yes, and what is this? What is this?

That is my hat.

O, this is your hat. Then, I will put your hat on your head.

OK. Good, and . . . Ashley, what is this?

O, this is a watch.

Is that my watch?

No, Marco, this is my watch.

Ashley, I don't have a watch.

Well, look for your watch. Look, look over there.

Where is my watch? O, I have a pen. I had a pen. Where is, where is my pen? I had a pen.

Your what?

I had a pen, where is my, my pen? I write. My pen, my favorite pen.

You have a pen.

No, my silver pen. Where is my pen? I had a pen.

OK. OK. OK I . . .

I don't know where my pen is. Ashley, you had my pen.

Um hum,

You had my pen.

I had your pen, but your pen . . .

Ashley, do you need a pen?

Yes, please. O, thank you! You're very kind.

We're friends.

Yes

If you need a pen, I will share my pen.

Thank you. You're very kind.

You're welcome.

I will put the pen on the table.

Ashley, who has a spoon?

um, who has a spoon? Well, Alexa has 5 spoons.

And who has a cup?

Alexa has a cup.

Who has an apple?

Elijah has an apple.

Who has 3 apples?

Katie has 3 apples.

Where are the apples.

There is one apple on her head. And there are 2 apples in her hands.

Ah, ha. Now, Alexa has a cup. Where is the cup of water?

The cup is on the table.

Elijah has an apple. Where is his apple?

It is in his mouth!

Umm. O, and there is Katie again with her 3 apples. Where are the apples again?

There are 2 apples in her hands, and there is 1 apple on her head.

OK, thank you, Ashley.

You're welcome.

Past Tense

Past tense: be, have, read, give, put, and take

Past tense: be, have, read, eat, give, put, and take

I am going to take my hat off and put it on the table.

Marco took his hat off, and put it on the table.

I took my hat off and I put it on the table.

Um hum.

I have a magazine. I read a magazine. I give my magazine to you.

Thank you. Yes! So, Marco had a magazine, he read the magazine . . .

I read the magazine.

. . . and he gave his magazine to me.

Yes, I had a magazine, I read a magazine, and I gave my magazine to Ashley.

Look! There is one bowl on the table.

Yesterday, there were 2 bowls on the table.

And two days ago, there were 3 bowls on the table.

There were 3 bowls, and now there is only 1 bowl.

Alexa has 5 spoons.

Yesterday, Katie had a spoon and a cup.

Alexa reads a magazine.

And yesterday, Katie read a book to Levi.

Erika eats a salad.

Yesterday, Elijah ate an apple.

Austin puts on his socks.

Yesterday, Josh and Austin put on their hats.

Yesterday, Josh and Austin put on their hats. Austin takes the blanket to Josh.

Yesterday, Ryan and Katie took their dog for a walk.

They took their dog for a walk. Bryce has 5 pencils and he gives 3 pencils to Ashley.

Yes, Bryce had 5 pencils and he gave 3 pencils to me. So now, he has 2.

Yes, he had 5, and now he has 2.

Review

Review

Review

So Marco, what did we learn today?

Well, we learned the days of the week. We actually reviewed the days of the week.

Yes

We learned weeks and months, and how many weeks . . . we learned there are 7 days in a week, 12 months in a year, and 52 weeks in a year.

Yes!

We learned that.

We learned that. We did. Where did we learn that?

We learned it here.

We learned it here, with you.

Yes with you. It was good to be with you and Ashley, who taught the class today?

Who taught the class?

Who are the teachers? Who taught the class?

Well, we taught the class. You taught the class and I taught the class.

So we taught the class.

Yes, we taught the class.

We are the teachers.

We are the teachers.

We are your teachers.

Yes, we are.

Thank you for watching today.

Um huh. Yes, thank you.

It was a good class.

It was.

And now I want to say good bye. Good bye.

Good bye!

See you next class.

We will see you then.

OK, bye, bye.